by common consent cone nded to stay in their civil rights was passed, year 33, noes 12. The President, to-day, sent to the Senate the correspondence with Chief Justice Chase, of last October, wherein the President enquires if the Circuit Court in Virginia, is is a condition to exercise its tunctions, as it may become necessary for the Government to prose cute some high crimes and misdemeanors committed against the United States within Virginia.

Judge Chase replied that the time is too short for the transaction of impor tant business before holding the Supreme Court in Washington, and were t otherwise, he doubts the propriety of bolding a Circuit term in a State yet liable to martial law and military adminis tration.

The President also transmitted a communication to the House, saying that he had recognized the independence of the Dominican Republic, and nominated to the Senate a Minister of the same grade as the one now accredited to Hayti and recommends therefore that the House provide compensation. Houses of Congress have finally, after years of debate, passed the bill, directing the Secretary of the Treasury to pay Charles F. Anderson $75,000 in full for plans, for the Capitol extension.
